

Hope-ful Example!

Editorial in Midland (Texas) Reporter-Telegram, January 17

The City of Hope, Ark., population 8,399, offers hope to all Americans who are concerned at the government's deficit spending and huge giveaway programs.

The little city long has been famous for its big, delicious watermelons and tasty peaches. Now it is gaining fame for its patriotic rejection of federal aid.

Residents of Hope only recently turned down an offer of federal funds for street construction.

Now, a fight is being made in opposition to the proposed construction of a $500,000 federal building for the Hope Post Office.

That is a marvelous community spirit—the Spirit of Hope!

The publisher of the Hope Star, Alex. Washburn, is a leader in the opposition movement. And it appears he has the backing of the community. A petition he is circulating is expected to have 2,000 signatures.

Washburn does not believe a new post office building is necessary in his city, since the present attractive three-story brick and stone building erected in 1912 is adequate.

The reason the Post Office Department wants the new edifice, according to Washburn, is because of a plan under which the post offices are replaced every 50 years — regardless.

Editor & Publisher magazine quotes Washburn, as saying editorially, "But the government has an obligation much greater than the 50-year rule of the bureaucrats — the obligation to keep itself solvent so our country can defend itself in time of war and honor its social security pledges in time of peace."

"There are thousands of towns like us throughout America, prosperous enough, but without material change. To replace all their post offices simply because some non-elective official invokes a 50-year rule is to ask for this very attack I am making."

Amen, Publisher Washburn, and the best of luck to you and to your courageous fellow citizens of Hope, Arkansas. Here's hoping that other communities across the land will adopt the Spirit of Hope.

The Hope Star's slogan, incidentally, is: "The tragedy of people is — We start off with a country, and wind up with a government."

Hope — Ed Note: The Star is indebted to Mrs. Georgia Cearley (Mrs. J. B.), 316 E. H. St., Hope, for bringing in the Midland (Texas) clipping above.

Letters to Editor

Editor The Star: God bless you for taking the stand you have taken in the interest of good American government.

You know, of course, the aim of the Reds is to destroy our economy and then tell our youth we have failed — and rebuild on it.

God help us to awaken and see what is going on right here in Arkansas. For God and Country.

Editor The Star: I wish to commend you on taking the position you did in opposing the spending of such a large sum of money in the construction of a new post office building at Hope.

I am not too well informed as to the need of a new building there, but I do appreciate such conservative men as you, who realize how wrong it is to have the government spend huge sums of money unless necessary and further increase our ridiculously-large national debt.

You may have been defeated but there are millions of citizens in the country who will applaud your sincere effort in the right direction.

The amendment, previously ratified by 37 states, becomes effective as soon as the South Dakota ratifies it. The South Dakota House approved it 52-18 last Friday, and the Senate is expected to follow suit.

LBJ's Name Brought Into Baker Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Lyndon B. Johnson's acceptance of a free stereophonic console, disclosed in a Senate investigation of former Senate aide Robert G. Baker, drew fire today from Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del.

Williams said in a statement: "Under preceding administrations the acceptance of lavish entertainment and large gifts by officials of the U.S. government was strongly condemned, and it cannot be condoned now any more than it was then."

Williams' statement referred to testimony by Don B. Reynolds, Washington and Silver Springs, Md., insurance man, that in 1953 at the suggestion of Baker he gave Johnson a stereo set costing more than $500.

President Johnson then was the Senate Democratic leader.

Reynolds had sold $100,000 of insurance on Johnson's life in 1957. The amount was increased to $200,000 in 1961 after Johnson became vice president.

The insurance man also testified he agreed to buy over $1,200 worth of advertising on a radio-television station in Austin, Tex., owned by the LBJ Co. which is paying the insurance premiums. Mrs. Johnson controlled the LBJ Co. at the time, but has put her stockholdings in trust since Johnson became President.

It was a demand by Williams, who had investigated Baker's outside business activities, which set off the Senate Rules Committee's investigation of the former secretary to the Senate Democratic majority and disclosure of the gift of the stereo.

Reynolds was questioned at closed sessions of the committee Jan. 9 and Jan. 17. A transcript of his testimony was made public Tuesday.

In his statement Williams harked back to investigations in prior administrations in which gifts of home freezers, fur coats and an oriental rug to government officials were criticized.

"I see no difference in the acceptance of an expensive stereo than in the acceptance of a mink or vicuna coat, a deep freeze or an oriental rug," Williams said he believed anyone giving gifts to public officials expects something in return, and "any public official who accepts such gifts is not so naive as to be unable to recognize that point."

Reynolds testified that he regarded Baker, a former South Carolina like himself, as someone who could provide him with access to important clients and had paid the former Senate aide about $15,000 for his help.

He said he had given Baker $4,000 for assisting him in obtaining a commission of about $10,000 in 1960 as broker for a performance bond required of Philadelphia contractor Matt McCloskey who built the District of Columbia Stadium.

McCloskey, who recently resigned as ambassador to Ireland, was treasurer of the Democratic National Committee at the time. He plans to handle

53 Is the Age When Birthday Candles Are Beginning to Cost More Than the Cake

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Something new is about to happen to mankind.

I'll soon be 53 years old, an age when the birthday candles are beginning to cost more than the cake.

One of my youthful associates, when I mentioned my forthcoming anniversary, said, "Tell us, Grandpa, what it is like to be a living mossback in your own time?"

Well, sir, by cracker, the view through your bifocaled windows on the edge of 53 is like this: Life insurance fellows quit trying to sell you on new 20-year endowment policies.

When you open the newspaper, you turn first to the obituary page to see who lost before turning to the sports page to see who won.

It takes you longer to clear your throat when you wake up in the morning.

The face you see in the mirror when you shave looks more like your father and less like you.

You grumble because it costs you more now to have a pair of shoes resoled than you paid for the shoes when you went to high

23.1 Million December Chicks

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas commercial hatcheries produced 23,187,000 chicks during December, 21, per cent more than in December 1962, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today.

The December 1963 figure was 83 per cent above the 1957-61 December average.

Broiler - type chicks hatched amounted to 22,513,000 and the egg-type totaled 674,000 during December.

Lecturer Is Ladies Night Speaker

Dr. Haridas T. Muzumdar, world traveler, lecturer, and educator, was the principal speaker before the annual Kiwanis Club's ladies night program at Hotel Barlow last night.

Born in India, he studied in India and also America, and holds degrees from several universities in each country. He is known as an authority on Gandhi, India and the Orient, and is the author of several books, one of the latest being America's Contributions to India's Freedom.

He took part in Gandhi's March to the Sea, the famous Dandi Salt party, which served as a prelude to India's non-violent revolution for freedom in 1929, and the following year he toured the United States to win American moral support for India's freedom.

During his speech last night he touched on foreign aid, and said he felt this should be administered by officials of the lower income bracket instead of high-salaried government career men.

Dr. Muzumdar has been a naturalized American citizen since 1947, and was accompanied to Hope by his wife. A large crowd greeted them at the annual ladies night program. Dr. F. C. Crow arranged the program and introduced the speaker.

Faubus Not Convinced on Poll Tax Deal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he is not convinced that the poll tax system of voter registration would be illegal in this summer's primary elections even if the South Dakota Legislature approves the anti-poll tax amendment and makes it part of the U.S. Constitution.

"The law strictly applies only to federal elections and it may be that we can separate them," Faubus said.

Faubus said he still plans to discuss the situation with his legal advisors before he decides whether to call a special legislative session to set up a new voter registration system.

Wiley Branton, a Negro attorney of Pine Bluff, said if the poll tax is used in the summer primaries, court suits would be filed.

Faubus said "That's all right. I just don't think they will get anywhere with it."

Think Russia Interested in LBJ's Proposal

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

GENEVA (AP)—Western and neutral delegates at the 17-nation disarmament conference expressed confidence today that the Soviet Union is studying President Johnson's new arms control proposals with exceptional interest.

The President, in a message read at the conference's resumption Tuesday, proposed a verified freeze on the number and specifications of nuclear delivery systems—missiles, submarines, planes and the like—and a controlled cutoff in the production of nuclear materials for weapons.

Some delegates believed two less spectacular proposals by Johnson had better chances of a favorable Soviet reaction. These called for agreement to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to nations that don't have them and a system of observation posts to prevent accidental war or surprise attack.

These in general coincided with two points proposed by Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin as part of a seven-point program of negotiations, but agreement was not complete.

Johnson, for example, worded his proposal to ban the transfer of nuclear weapons so that it would not apply to the multilateral nuclear force proposed for the North Atlantic Alliance. Tsarapkin called for prevention of the spread of nuclear weapons to multilateral forces as well as to individual nations.

Johnson's proposals for the first time broke up the huge and complex package of general disarmament, long deadlocked in the two-year-old conference. A general disarmament treaty still is the ultimate goal, but the U.S. proposals are preliminary measures which might start the powers toward a comprehensive treaty.

The U.S. proposals also included a treaty to outlaw the use or threat of force and subversion, and a new effort to ban underground nuclear weapon tests, excluded from the limited test ban treaty.

There was no immediate indication of the Soviet response. The first indication may come in the next meeting of the conference, on Thursday.

Bell Wants to Build New Line

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Southwestern Electric Power Co. of Shreveport, La. asked the Public Service Commission today for authority to construct a 22.5 mile transmission line in Washington County at a cost of about $494,464.

The line would run from Greenland through Prairie Grove to a point near the Oklahoma state line. It would carry 69,000 volts.

About 19 miles of the line would run through territory allocated to the Ozarks Electric Co-operative Corporation.

New Satellite Is Sent Into Orbit by U.S.

By HOWARD BENEDICT

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—A new U.S. communications satellite, Relay 2, circled the earth today and may be joined Friday by another, the giant Echo 2 balloon, as scientists seek the best space system for worldwide radio, television and telephone coverage.

Relay 2 shot into orbit from Cape Kennedy Tuesday atop a three-stage Delta rocket.

On the satellite's first orbit, radio communications and a television test pattern were beamed to it from Mojave, Calif. The satellite immediately transmitted the signals back to Mojave and to a station at Nutley, N.J.

First intercontinental television broadcasts via Relay 2 were scheduled today—an exchange of greetings between U.S. and Japanese government officials. President Johnson may speak on the U.S. segment.

Echo 2, successor to the spectacular Echo 1 balloon which orbited in 1960, is scheduled for launching from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., Friday. It is to expand to a diameter of 135 feet in space, and the United States and Russia have agreed to try to bounce signals off its aluminum skin. It would be their first joint experiment in talking via satellite.

Relay 2, an active communications satellite, built by RCA, and Echo 2, which has no electronic parts and serves only as a reflector of signals, are different approaches in a U.S. effort to determine the most effective type of satellite for a global space communications system.

Most experts believe an eventual network will consist of three to six satellites similar to the Syncom 2 payload launched last year. Syncom satellites orbit 22,300 miles high, where their relative speeds match that of the earth and they appear to hover over one spot.

The higher altitude poses many technical problems, but most engineers are confident they can be overcome.

Closer Cooperation

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—Gen. William F. McKee, U.S. Air Force vice chief of staff, has arrived for talks on topics including closer U.S.-Australian air defense cooperation.

Cutback in Funds Hurts River Plan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Col. Charles Maynard, chief of the Little Rock District of Army Engineers, said Tuesday that a slight cutback in funds will set the Arkansas River program back about one year.

But he said the $84 million budgeted by President Johnson for the project is a healthy amount, and one of which Arkansas should be proud.

Navigation to Little Rock was scheduled by 1968 and to Tulsa by 1972.

River development supporters had hoped for an increase of 2 per cent in appropriations, but the $84 million for fiscal 1964-65 represents only about half that and slightly less than the amount approved by Congress for this fiscal year.

Maynard made the remarks in a speech to a Little Rock civic club.

Slayer Gets Another Stay of Execution

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Douglas Wayne Thompson, convicted killer of a Cape Girardeau policeman, got another stay of execution Tuesday from the Missouri Supreme Court. No new execution date was set.

The court did not spell out the details of the motion for the requested by Thompson's attorney, but it was presumed the attorney hoped to present new evidence.

The stay order was delivered personally by the Supreme Court marshal to Warden E. V. Nash.

A week ago, in a stay on the execution of Lloyd L. Anderson, the order was mailed. It got into a sack of convict mail and Nash did not receive it until some eight hours after the execution was to have occurred.

Nash said then he withheld action because he saw in the papers the stay order had been issued by the court.

Thompson and Sammy Aire Tucker, both California jailbreakers, were convicted of killing two Cape Girardeau policemen, Donald H. Crittendon and Herbert Goss, in a gunfight March 10, 1961. Tucker was executed in Missouri's gas chamber last July 26.

Appeals by Thompson already have been rejected by both the Missouri and U.S. Supreme courts.

Democratic campaign fund raising activities.

Reynolds testified he also paid $1,500 to William McLeod, chief clerk of the House District Committee, in connection with the same transaction. Informing that McLeod maintained the payment was for legal services in South Carolina, Reynolds said this was not so.

Reynolds' testimony, given at closed hearings Jan. 9 and Jan. 17, was made public by the committee Tuesday.

The committee is investigating whether Baker, who resigned his $19,600 Senate job under fire Oct. 7, engaged in outside business dealings that conflicted with his official duties or involved other improprieties.

Reynolds told the committee that he bought the advertising time on the Austin station because he was led to believe by Walter Jenkins, a top aide to Johnson, that "it was expected of me."

Jenkins, in a sworn statement that was placed in evidence, denied knowledge of any arrangements by which Reynolds bought advertising time or ever suggesting that the LBJ Company should get any rebate from Reynolds' insurance commissions.

Reynolds insisted that Jenkins had discussed the purchase of advertising time with him.

At the White House, press secretary Pierre Salinger was asked to comment on the Reynolds testimony.

"Mr. Jenkins' statement which is part of the record makes it very clear the President never had any conversation with Mr. Reynolds about the record player and considered it a gift from a long-time employee," Salinger said.

Asked if Johnson did not receive an invoice which listed Reynolds as the buyer of the equipment, Salinger said, "I'm standing on the statement I made. I think it was very explicit."

Salinger reported, in response to another question, that Johnson gave the stereo machine to one of his household employees—not identified—"some time ago."

Ruby Defense Thinks Ruling a Victory

By MIKE COCHRAN

DALLAS (AP)—Jack Ruby's defense team will return to court Feb. 10 to argue that his murder trial should be transferred out of Dallas because of "general animosity against him."

Meanwhile, Ruby will undergo an intensive mental examination conducted by a three-man panel of psychiatrists agreed upon by Dist. Judge Joe B. Brown.

Chief defense lawyer Melvin Belli said he was pleased over court developments Tuesday, which resulted in creation of the panel but failed to gain Ruby his freedom on bond.

Another result was delay of Ruby's murder trial on a charge of killing Lee Harvey Oswald, the pro-Marxist accused of assassinating President John F. Kennedy.

Brown said if he rules against a change of venue Feb. 10, the trial of the 52-year-old strip joint operator will begin Feb. 17. Otherwise, he will choose a new site and date for the trial.

The trial had been scheduled

Make My Bed Soon

THE STORY: After mixing in a tavern brawl, Duffey is asked to leave town by Police Chief Frazier. Duffey was framed for car theft. As he leaves the jail he is picked up by a young woman named Gail Covalt. A friend of hers, Jack Charlton offers Duffey a job. Duffey refuses.

III

In the Phoenix bus depot I got my two suitcases and walked up the street carrying one in each hand. A short block away I came to a hotel. There were a camel and a camel driver out in front, but they both looked phony, so I didn't speak. I registered as A. L. Duffey, Los Angeles, and wrote my address.

The defense suddenly dropped its attempt to get Ruby freed on bond after the court agreed to appoint the team of psychiatrists.

Brown held a long afternoon conference with prosecution and defense lawyers and stated afterward that the psychiatrists' report must be evaluated in court, subject to argument from both sides.

"The jury will have to decide whether Ruby is sane or insane," Brown emphasized.

Defense counsel sought throughout the hearing to show that Ruby was a man with brain damage that would make him capable of killing without knowing it.

While I showered and shaved and brushed the jail dust from my teeth I couldn't help thinking about the girl. I had seen her face go all to pieces when the big boy came into the saloon. I had seen Covalt bounce Charlton off the floor. Was it because of her? And if it were how come she was doing Charlton's errands this morning. Yet, before we had gone in, she had asked me to make nothing of the thing which had happened between Jack and Chet. It was none of my business. I tried to figure, and added one complication—why had she made me so mad last night?

Tying my tie in front of the mirror, I could still see the lump behind my ear. If my hair hadn't been cut so short, it wouldn't have been so noticeable, but you'll do a lot to get rid of a prison haircut. Grimly, I reflected that the outward signs couldn't make much difference, the way the news of my recent vacation was getting around town.

That made me remember the gun. I got it out of the suitcase and out of the gray woolen socks into which I had stuffed it. It was a .38 caliber automatic, neat and flat and much smaller than they make them nowadays. It had been my father's gun. He had bought it in the early 30's, when there had been transient troubles, and except when he had taught me to shoot when I was 14, it never had been used.

There was a knock on the door. I shoved the gun under the pillow on my bed and then mused up the spread a bit as though I had been lying down.

When I opened the door he said "Hello, Duffey." He was not a very big man and he had a thin face with too many vertical lines in it, as though the artist hadn't known when to stop.

I said, "You're a long way from home, Lieutenant. I suppose you heard I've been arrested."

"That's right. Also, why. You got a few minutes?"

"This an official visit?" He shook his head. "Happened to be in last night when Chief Frazier's call came through. So I decided to fly over and pay my respects."

Lieutenant Valerich took the comfortable chair.

I sat on the edge of the bed. I said, "It wasn't more than a half-hour ago that I decided to stay at this hotel because it was in my way as I walked up the street. That's pretty fast work for a social call."

Valerich grinned. "I was waiting up the street in Scottville. By the time I caught up, you'd been picked up by Cleopatra Jr. You must have impressed her with your gymnastics last night."

Valerich got a cigarette lit and was rocking a little, with his left ankle caught over his right knee and both hands folded over his upraised shank. I wondered how many hours I had watched him in that position not so many hundreds of years ago.

He said, "A cop hates to make mistakes, Duffey—a hard fact to appreciate."

"Thanks," I said. "Would you please give me back one year. I'll write you a receipt."

"You were judged guilty," he snapped, "by a jury of your peers."

"Sure," I said, "and how many of them were in Korea."

"We owe you a living, Duffey. We owe you a year. You've got a great chance of making the rest of the road."

"The rest of the road," I said, "is a detour out of Scottville. That much I can thank you for."

"You can thank me for this, Duffey. A week ago the Palos Verdes police picked up a boy stealing a brand new car. The boy who lifted the car was a redhead, a redhead with a nick out of his left ear and a blue anchor tattooed on the back of his right hand."

"Did he send his regards to me?"

The Lieutenant shrugged. "And the next time you hide a gun," he said drily, "don't sit on your bed so it drops out under the edge of your pillow."

Other Disney Says 1963 a Good Year

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Yes it has been a good year," said Roy Disney with characteristic understatement.

Roy is "the other Disney"—the older brother who has long provided the money to bring Walt's dreams to reality. The success of this lifelong partnership is shown in Walt Disney Productions' annual report.

From 1953 to 1964, gross income increased 10-fold from $8 million to almost $82 million. Profits last year were at an all-time high of $6,574,000.

As president and financial mind of the Disney empire, Roy has long left the spotlight to his famous brother.

"He's a grand guy," said Roy, whose homespun manner hides a steel-traplike financial mind. "It has always been a job keeping up with him. He gets the ideas, then I have to look at them from a practical prosaic view."

"Sometimes I've had to say no, and he'll accept it if he knows that my decision didn't come from lack of vision. There have been times when I just

Shriver Undecided on Race for VP

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP)—Sargent Shriver, director of the U.S. Peace Corps, told newsmen Tuesday night he has not decided whether to run for vice president if he is asked.

Shriver, on a world tour, came to inspect Peace Corps work in Afghanistan and to deliver a message from President Johnson to King Mohammad Zahir.

couldn't get the money.

"He's not a bad guy to work with. He knows what he wants and he'll listen to you—if you know what you're talking about. But if you're just shooting off your mouth, he won't hear a thing."

"My job is to help Walt do the things he wants to do," said Roy. "I take no part in the artistic decision; that's not my field. I deal with the banks and give Walt a free hand. The trouble with a lot of other movie companies is that the banks make decisions on the pictures."

Has the studio ever been in real trouble?
Roy smiled.

"We've always been pretty stretched out," he said. "Maybe that's why we've done so well—we always owed so much money. Only in the past three years have we been able to breathe more easily."

J. Kennedy Library Is Supported

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for a President John F. Kennedy Library are meeting enthusiastic public approval and support, a spokesman for the project said today.

More than $2 million of the needed $10 million has been received — including a $1-million primer from the Kennedy Foundation. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, a brother of the late president, has said the family hopes the fund-raising drive will be over in six months.

The thousands of letters from a public which mourned Kennedy's death — he was assassinated two months ago today — bear witness to the support for the library to be built near Harvard University.

Contributions have ranged from $1 to $50,000. Many writers have expressed the hope that the library will be available to them and their families — not just to students. They are being assured that after the library is completed with public funds, it will be turned over to the federal government and will be open to the public.

In addition to the contributions sent to the president's widow and his two brothers, others have been sent to the White House and the United Nations the late president's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, and his brothers-in-law, Steven Smith and Sargent Shriver.

DOROTHY DIX

BABES IN MARRIAGE

By Helen Worden Erskine
Dear Helen: What do you do with two spoiled kids in my problem, these kids being my daughter who will be 19 in February and her husband who will be 22 the same month. Two years ago they were crazy to get married. Finally, after much praying and many discussions we consented. It was one big mistake but what's done is done. Now the problem is to save that marriage.
Soon after the wedding my son-in-law joined the Army. At the end of the first year came the baby, a jolly, roly-poly boy and everything seemed fine. This past year the family baby are home with me and not one cent has my son-in-law contributed to their support. Then she got packed and took the bus to him. He borrowed money to buy her a ticket back here. They're talking divorce.

I liked the boy and when he married told him I didn't lose a daughter but gained a son. I begin to wonder. He isn't the person he used to be. I'm not saying we didn't spoil our daughter. He babied her too, then gripes when she doesn't act grown-up.
They're good-looking kids—in love, I suspect, with themselves more than with each other. She's all the time asking me for money but doing nothing in return for it. Should I quit helping or keep on trying to stop their marriage from cracking up? Being in the middle has got me so confused I don't know where I'm at. What's the answer, if any? —Harassed Mother.

Dear Harassed: Let go. Relax. These two spoiled kids have to work out their own problems. You've helped too much already and, in the doing, hindered. Tell them it's sink or swim. Two of the greatest mistakes parents can make, it seems to me, is to give their children all the material possessions they desire and to over- shield them from the normal vicissitudes of life. Invariably, when either one, or both, of these conditions prevail, the children must struggle under a considerable handicap all their lives.

Early childhood should be a "bowl of cherries" but not the rest of the life, and one of the primary duties of parents is to prepare their young for eventual acceptance of responsibility and productive work. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "How to Get Along with an Adolescent."

Dear Helen: What do you do with a brother who acts like an old granny? You'd think I was born yesterday instead of 17 years ago, the way he polices me and my dates. Mom and Pop trust me but not this busy-body brother and him only 15. When I tell him to mind his own business he says that's just what he's doing for, until I marry, he considers himself my protector. Help! —Over-Chaperoned Sis.

Dear Over-Chaperoned: Too much supervision can be a nuisance, especially when coming from a younger brother but consider the affection which prompts it. The surest cure is laughter. Introduce him as "Granny" to your boy friends. Kid him before girls his own age, but don't overdo it. After all, you should be glad you have a brother concerned enough about your welfare to want to protect you.

Dear Helen: The more I do for my wife the less she cares. Why, when I've run myself ragged earning the money to give her everything she demands and more? Where did I fail? —Depressed Husband

Dear Depressed: When a man gives so much of himself to a woman that there is nothing left, he is asking her to love a shadow of a man. Women don't love shadows. They flee from them. Try the caveman role for a change. Use a club and drag your wife around by the hair of her head—figuratively speaking. Some women need that kind of treatment.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Defends Bible Reading Ruling

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Associate Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court says the fact that most Americans may favor Bible-reading in the public schools has nothing to do with its constitutionality.

In a speech at Shippensburg State College Tuesday night, Douglas said the purpose of the Constitution is to "protect the minority no matter how repugnant this might be to the majority."

Tippit's Wife Now Has $600,000

By PATRICIA CURRAN

DALLAS (AP) — In a quiet corner of a south Dallas cemetery lies the body of patrolman J. D. Tippit, slain two months ago today as he sought to question President Kennedy's accused assassin. His grave is unmarked, save for a Christmas wreath and a bouquet of artificial roses.

His widow, whose home is a few blocks away, is intent on living as she did when her husband was alive, although she was wealthier by $600,000.

Mrs. Tippit thanked the nation for its contributions at a press conference Tuesday. "I haven't decided about the money yet," she said, "but I have advisers. We will try to use the money the way God would have us to."

Mrs. Tippit smiled as she assured reporters her mail did not include proposals of marriage. When asked whether she was 37 or 38, she replied, with another smile, "I'm 35."

But she appeared generally somber, and her voice broke once as she was asked about the reaction of her three children to their father's death. "Doing without their father has been pretty hard on them," she said, "and will be for quite some time."

The widow said she plans to live as she has and "rear the children as I would have if he were with us."

That means she and Allen, 14, Brenda, 10, and Curtis Glen, 5, will remain in a pink brick home in a south Dallas development.

party Tuesday night to help him celebrate.

Grady went to school but was let out early because he'd finished his tests for the day.

On his way home, the boy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Brumfield of suburban Metairie, was struck and killed by an automobile. Two schoolmates said he ran into the path of the vehicle.

Jim Brown Will Stick to Football

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The big fellow walked by with the grace and velvety softness of a tiger, drawing a huge sigh from Norman Rothschild.

"There goes five million bucks," said Rothschild who is a boxing and restaurateur. "Yes, there goes the guy who could have been heavyweight champion of the world. And still could be the champ."

He turned to the slim-waisted, wide-shouldered giant in the three-button Ivy League suit and said:

"The offer still goes, Jimmy."

"No thanks," replied Jimmy Brown. "I'll stick with football."

"I offered him $150,000—$50,000 a year for three years—to sign a fight contract with me before he graduated from Syracuse University," explained Rothschild the other night.

"He is the most wonderfully coordinated athlete I've ever seen, and I've seen such great athletes as Sugar Ray Robinson, Bob Cousy, Elgin Baylor, Jackie Robinson and plenty of others," said Rothschild.

"I watched Brown play football, lacrosse and basketball in his college days at Syracuse and I've seen him play often with the Cleveland Browns. And he's the best. I was convinced he could become the heavyweight champion before Sonny Liston won it and I think he would have a great chance to win it in three years even if he turned to boxing at 28."

Brown, the great fullback and record rusher of the National Football League, becomes 28 on Feb. 17. He was an All-America in lacrosse as well as football at Syracuse before returning pro with the Browns in 1957.

Wolverines Push Two for All American

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Cazzie Russell and Bill Buntin, the one-two punch for the Michigan Wolverines, are high up in college basketball's current All-America check list.

They demonstrated their ability again Tuesday night as the Wolverines whipped Minnesota 80-66 and took another step towards their first Big Ten championship in 16 years.

Russell threw in 25 points and Buntin added 23 as the Wolverines, second-ranked nationally in The Associated Press' poll, rolled to their fourth straight league triumph and 13th victory in 14 starts over-all.

The way they are going the Wolverines may finish with a perfect 14-0 mark in league play in contrast to their first year in Big Ten basketball, back in 1918, when they didn't win a league game. In fact their only defeat this campaign came at the hands of unbeaten UCLA, top-ranked in The AP poll.

Bobcats Have an Easy Time, Lady Cats Win

By CARTER HARDAGE

Hope Star Sportswriter

Hope turned in a game of rugged ball last night to really swamp the Curley Wolves of Prescott by an overwhelming 87-36. The Lady Cats downed their opposition in the opener rather convincingly, also, 47-27.

Seeking revenge for their rough handling at the hands of the Camden Panthers and officials last Saturday night, the Cats tore into the Curley Wolves like savages bent on destruction. They reeked havoc on all sides with a devastating attack, and as Hope's scorer Troy Buck would say, "They were on them like a chicken on a bug."

The Cats started edging ahead of Prescott in the first minutes of the game, and had outdistanced them enough to send in the entire second team by the middle of the second period. With the subs really popping the sack, the gap widened until at the Half the Cats were out front 51-25.

The Third Quarter began with the starters back in, and the lead went up to over 50 points at times. Then Hope's second string got a chance to test their mettle against the big guys, and they stayed right in there, too, matching them point for point. The final score was 87-36.

Dan Jones was tops in the scoring department for the evening with 15. Andy High was close behind with 13. Mike Archer, Bill Reinhardt, and Jerry Burnett had 12 each. Johnny Honeycutt 8, Paul Henley and Ronnie Ingram 4 apiece, big Jimmy Johnson and George Jones 2 each, and Mike sacked 1. Tommy Hooks and Lavender had 7 apiece for the Wolves.

The Ladies started off the card in a match that proved to be a real knock-down drag-out affair. Hope got the initial points and started edging into a slight advantage, but Prescott's girls were staying right in with them. But that was until the top notch guards stepped into the picture. They cracked down sharply, holding Prescott to two field goals each period of the First Half. Halftime score was 21-12. Hope.

The gap widened and the game was turned over to the seconds for the remainder of the battle.

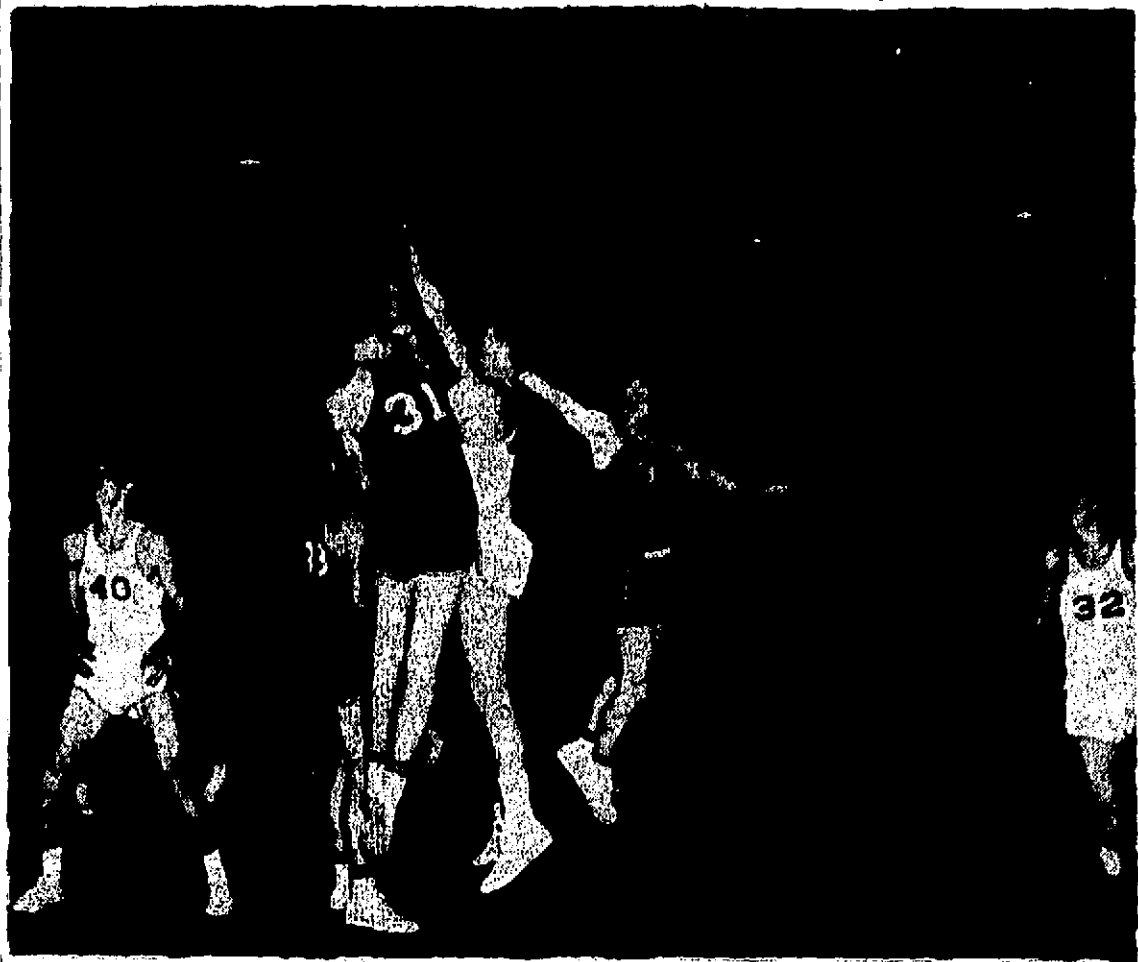

Shirley Smith had 18 for the Ladies and Phyllis Martin had 16.

Tomorrow the Senior Girls go to the County Tourney at Guernsey.

was the only team in The AP's Top Ten to see action Tuesday as the mid-season exam lull continued.

In the few other major games, Purdue went two over-times to defeat Notre Dame at Fort Wayne, 112-103. Georgia Tech defeated Georgia 71-55 in a non-SEC conference game at Atlanta, and Tennessee overcame Ft. Knox 96-56 at Knoxville. On the Pacific Coast, Dayton lost to Seattle 80-63.

Bobcats Find Prescott Not Tough

HOPE'S DAN JONES, CENTER IN white in the air, scores two points on a long jump shot as teammates Henley 40 and Honeycutt

32 try to give aid. For Prescott Pidigo 31, Willis 33 and Hooks 35 try to block the shot. Hope easily won 87 to 36.

Liston May Have Another Short Night

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Sonny Liston may have another short night's work Feb. 25 with Cassius Clay at Miami Beach, but the heavyweight champion figures to make a bundle. Cassius won't have to depend on any Social Security, either, if he makes it.

Nat Halpern, the president of Theater Network Television, Inc., the company that will operate a closed circuit telecast of the title fight, said Tuesday he already had 1,000,000 seats available. It may hit 1,250,000 by fight time.

As Halpern figures the average price will be about $5, a sell-out in the theaters and arenas in between 250,300 and locations would bring in something between $5 million and $6,250,000. The record is the $4 million estimated for the first Liston-Floyd Patterson fight in 1961.

The actual gate at Miami Beach could reach $1,200,000 if they sell all the tickets starting at a $250 top. Bill MacDonald, a Miami sportsman, has assured the fighter they will share in $625,000 by buying the live gate for that amount.

On the basis of 42½ per cent for Liston and 22½ per cent for Clay, a sellout on all seats could bring the champ a little more than $1 million and Cassius close to $650,000. As Sonny also participates in Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., the promoter, his share will be much higher in the final tally.

In Little League Basketball play Saturday morning, the Hot Rods put on a real scoring show to down the Cool Cats 38 to 9. Buz Andrews had 13 for the winners, John Henley 11, Joe McMurrough 10 and Jerry Don Still 5. Randy O'Steen and Danny Turner were high for the Cool Cats with 3 each. Both of these teams now stand with a 2 and 1 record.

Royals Battle to Tie With Strong Celtics

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Cincinnati Royals are fattening up in Column One, but Column Two apparently has them beaten.

The Royals tied the Eastern Division leading Boston Celtics with the most victories in the National Basketball Association by walling the New York Knickerbockers 139-124 Tuesday night for their 32nd victory.

The 32 victories represent Column One in the NBA standings. Column Two, the loss column, shows the Royals with 17 losses—seven more than the Celtics, who were beaten by St. Louis 116-114 on Zelmo Beaty's jump shot with 14 seconds remaining.

The Royals still are 3½ games behind the Celtics.

In other games, Terry Dischinger's interception preserved Baltimore's 124-121 victory over Philadelphia and San Francisco blew an early 20-point lead and then came back to defeat Detroit 100-88.

The Royals brought their record to 7-1 against the Knicks behind a three-man attack led by Oscar Robertson, 31 points, Jack Twyman, 21, and Jerry Lucas, 20 and five stitches. The stitches were required to close a cut chin suffered in the first quarter.

The Celtics trailed 114-106 with 3:40 left but baskets by Sam Jones, John Havlicek, Bill Russell and foul shots by Russell and K. C. Jones tied it. Beaty then ruled the comeback. Beaty wound up with 11 points. Bob Pettit led the Hawks with 29 while Sam Jones had 20 for Boston.

Philadelphia rallied from seven points down to within 122-121 with 23 seconds left, and had possession. But Dischinger stole a pass, and Walt Bellamy eventually sank two free throws with four seconds left to clinch it for Baltimore. Bellamy led the scorers with 37 points to 36 for Hal Greer of the 76ers.

The Warriors' Wilt Chamberlain scored only three points in the third period but led his team with 24 points as San Francisco moved within 2½ games of Los Angeles in the NBA's Western Division. Don Ohl topped the Pistons with 17.

Hickey, of Keeseville, N.Y., piloted one of two American sleds Tuesday as practice began for the four-man championships at the Games, which open a week from today. His optimistic forecast was made after the first U.S. performances proved unimpressive.

Hickey piloted the No. 1 U.S. sled with mates Bill Dundon of Brownsville, N.Y., Reginald Benham of Lake Placid, N.Y., and brakeman Charles Pandolph of Saranac Lake N.Y. The crew placed 15th in the trials with a clocking of 2 minutes, 14.44 seconds for two runs.

The U.S. No. 2 sled came through with a slightly better performance. Piloted by Lawrence McKillip of Saranac Lake, with brakeman James Lamy of Lake Placid and Floyd Baumgartner and Roger Neil, both of Saranac Lake, the two finished 12th in 2:11.82.

Italy's eight-time world champion, Eugenio Monti, turned in the best runs, flashing down the approximately one-mile track at Mount Patscherkofel in 2:09.15 with the day's best run of 1:04.34 on his second descent.

Networks Are Bidding for Pro Football

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Quietly and efficiently three sealed envelopes will be placed Friday morning on the desk of Pete Rozelle, National Football League commissioner.

In each will be an unimposing slip of paper—each worth in the neighborhood of $15 million.

That's the area in which the three major networks are expected to present bids for television's hottest property—the NFL games—when a new two-year contract is put on the open market.

And, looking over everyone's shoulder will be the American Football League.

The entire bidding operation is a sheer matter of guesswork. Only one bid is made—and the highest wins. There is no second chance. Thus far, in bidding for football programs, the National Broadcasting Co. has had the best swami.

NBC outbid the Columbia Broadcasting System and the American Broadcasting Co. for the two-year contract to the college games, collecting that plum with a $13,044,000 bid—or $6,522,000 a year. CBS previously had the rights.

NBC also proved successful Monday in scoring a coup against ABC by taking the Orange Bowl away from that network. That provides NBC with the opportunity to telecast a unique tripleheader next Year's Day, with the Sugar, Rose and now the Orange Bowl games.

ABC still has a one-year option for the AFL rights—at a figure of about $2,350,000 nor the single season under a contract signed in 1960. If ABC were to bid and win the NFL rights, the network likely would not exercise its option to retain the AFL.

That would throw open the AFL bidding to an open market of NBC and CBS, and presumably bring a bigger price to the young pro league.

The three networks will be bidding on the rights to all regular season NFL games. The rights to the championship game, which NBC won with a $926,000 bid for 1963, will be up for separate bidding in March.

Hurler Hopes Pride Will Carry Him

BOSTON (AP) — Sandy Koufax says he reached the pitching heights when he lost some of his stuff and gained more pride. And he hopes pride will help him stay on top.

The 28-year-old Los Angeles Dodger southpaw won The Associated Press Award as Male athlete of the Year was named the National League's Most Valuable Player and collected endless other honors in the wake of the 1963 season.

He won 25 regular season games and pitched two of the victories in the four-game World Series sweep of the New York Yankees.

"I think my stuff is as good as it used to be," Koufax said Tuesday night while in town to receive an award from the B'nai B'rith Sports Lodge of Boston.

"I'm a better pitcher than I used to be mostly because I have better control and know more about pitching."

"It's not true that all I have to do is get my fast ball and good curve over the plate. The only time I can afford simply to fire the ball through the strike zone anywhere is when my team is several runs ahead, and with the Dodgers that isn't often. Our team relies on speed and tight defense. We don't have many big innings."

"I don't know how I acquired control. All I know is that I never used to know where a pitch was going to end up when I fired and now I do. That's about the only difference between winning and losing."

Koufax was asked what keeps a pitcher on top once he gets there.

"I think it is, to a great extent, a matter of personal pride. Why has Warren Spahn gone on winning the way he has? First, it's his beautiful smooth pitching delivery. But also it's his pitcher's pride."

"You always feel you want tremendously to win."

"Spahn has another important asset. He is resourceful and thoughtful and has the ability to appraise himself. When his fast ball lost some of its steam, he was resourceful enough to develop another."

"For that matter, that's what a pitcher does in a ball game. He often doesn't know what his best pitch is—until the bats 'inform' him."

CHICAGO (AP)—Pitcher Cal Koonce has become the 20th Chicago Cub to sign for 1964.

Placed on Waivers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John Windsor, 6-foot-8 rookie forward Stanford, was placed on waivers Tuesday by the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

The move reduced the Warriors roster to 10 players, two under the NBA limit.
